

Short bio form for symposium

Name: Hanadi Rifai
Title: Professor
Education: Bachelor's of Civil Engineering from American University of Beirut, Masters and PhD of Environmental Engineering from Rice University

Short description of experience: Dr. Rifai is a professor in Civil and Environmental Engineering at the University of Houston (UH). Prior to joining UH she served as Executive Director of Energy and Environmental Systems Institute at Rice University. Dr. Rifai teaches courses in Computers and GIS, engineering design and fate and transport.

Professional or organizational affiliations: member of ASCE, NGWA, AGU, WEF, ACS, and ASEEP. Registered professional engineer in Texas

Awards or acknowledgements and achievements: Served on EPA Science Advisory Board committees and TCEQ task forces for risk assessment, natural attenuation and bacterial TMDLs.

Other items of interest:

Contact information: Civil and Environmental Engineering
University of Houston, 4800 Calhoun, Houston, TX 77204-4003
(713) 743-4271
fax: (713) 743-4260
email: Rifai@uh.edu

Please return the form to Sue Roman: sroman@bayoupreservation.org

Your bio will be posted on the Bayou Preservation Association web site www.bayoupreservation.org