

Name: James F. Thompson

Current Position: Chief Executive, AECOM, International Government Services

Current Employer: AECOM

Summary of Previous Experience:

Mr. Thompson has more than 25 years of experience in consulting engineering and facilities management on projects throughout the U.S. and globally. His business and management experience includes urban infrastructure, transportation, and public works development and operations. His technical expertise lies in hydrology and civil engineering as applied to projects locally and throughout the world.

Particular to Houston and the issue of storm water management, Mr. Thompson has worked professionally as the Principal-in-Charge of the City of Houston's Storm Water Management Program and the Harris County Flood Control District's Watershed master plan.

Mr. Thompson is currently responsible as AECOM's Chief Executive of International Governments. AECOM is a Fortune 500 Company providing technical and management services with over 44,000 employees operating in over 60 countries globally.

Education:

BSCE Texas A&M University

License/Registration:

Registered Professional Engineer in Texas, Arizona, Arkansas, Louisiana, Nevada, Oklahoma